Adventures in kitchencraft
Some women seek adventure in the air; some in sport; many in the old, old way of lovers. By far the greatest number, however, do their adventuring in their kitchens, trying out new recipes with the object of delighting husbands or children, friends or sweethearts. To these, the most honoured women in the world, we dedicate this 1934-35 Edition of our Recipe Book. We are glad to serve them by giving them 63 new ways of using Simpson's Self-Raising Flour, for, God bless them, in their most important of all ways, they serve the world.

Few drops cochineal

2 tablespoons sugar
1 egg, well beaten
1/4 cup milk
1/2 cup "ROYAL BLUE" Seeded Raisins (chopped)

Cream butter and sugar, add well-beaten egg and beat thoroughly, stir in the milk alternately with the sifted flour and salt. Blend all ingredients thoroughly, then add the lemon juice and cochineal, and lastly the chopped raisins. Bake in a well-greased, heart-shaped loaf tin in a slow oven 40 minutes. Remove from tin and, when cool, coat with the following icing:—1 cup sifted icing sugar combined with sufficient fresh milk to make a spreading paste, add a few drops of lemon juice and tint a delicate pink with cochineal. Spread thinly on loaf and sprinkle with browned cocoanut.

Dissolve the treacle in the milk, then stir into the dry mixture, making the dough just stiff enough to roll out. Turn on to a floured board and roll to about half-inch in thickness.
