This is the published version:

Available from Deakin Research Online:

http://hdl.handle.net/10536/DRO/DU:30072461

Reproduced with the kind permission of the copyright owner.

Copyright : 2014, The Higher Education Academy
Contents

List of figures and acknowledgements iii
Authors iv
Introduction 5
Methodology 8
Brief review of literature 8

A snapshot of current UK courses with an inter-disciplinary focus on Dance, Drama and Music 13
  Performing Arts 13
  Major/Minor/Joint Awards 14
  Indicative postgraduate provision 20

Analysis of online questionnaire 22
Case study interviews 29
Conclusions 42
Bibliography 46
List of figures and acknowledgements

Figure 1: Split between subject disciplines ................................................................. 23
Figure 2: How established are the undergraduate programmes? ............................. 24
Figure 3: Institutions with global modules .................................................................. 26
Figure 4: Inter-disciplinary activity taking place on an extracurricular basis ............ 27
Figure 5: Collaboration agenda of institutions .............................................................. 27
Figure 6: The impetus of inter-disciplinary work .......................................................... 28
Figure 7: Staff involvement in inter-disciplinary work .................................................. 28
Figure 8: Does an inter-disciplinary approach challenge traditional academic relationships? 30

We would like to thank all of the colleagues who graciously gave their time to complete the online questionnaire and, in particular, those who agreed to be interviewed. Without your input, this research would not have been possible.