Supplement to 1904 Catalogue

To Architects and the Building Trade.

We have pleasure in presenting Photo-engravings of our most recent Modern Art Designs of Decoration in Stamped Metal.

The various Ceiling Panels, Cornices, Friezes, and Dados shown in the following pages form the nucleus of a scheme having for its object the entire remodelling of our Catalogue, with a view of eliminating antiquated or overdone designs, thereby bringing our range of patterns absolutely up to date.

Note the sharp relief of our work, obtained by the EMBOSSED PROCESS, necessitating repeated blows of a drop hammer, in contradistinction to PRESSED work, obtained by passing the sheets once through a power press. The latter process is adopted by other manufacturers on account of its cheapness, but the results obtained cannot compare with the Wunderlich embossed (repousse) work.

The efficiency and durability of stamped metal for architectural decoration has never been questioned. Though discarded materials and methods may have temporary revival, the best proof of the popularity of our work is the steadily increasing demand, so that last year we manufactured over 21 million superficial feet of sheet steel, sufficient material for the ceilings of 12,000 rooms of a size about 15 ft. x 12 ft.
