Thank you Dawn. I have attended to most of your suggested revisions, but decided some of them were not necessary.

I will let your know when 31(2) is published.

Best wishes for your ongoing research.

Hi Clare, I have read through carefully with fresh eyes and made a few edits, hope it is now ok. Apologies I should have read this carefully before sending through with the revisions.

Thank you for the chance to fix.

Subject: Proof copy of your article for IIER

Hello Dawn

I am attaching your article "It's fun, unthreatening and engaging?: Professional learning in initial teacher education, BEd Primary" edited and formatted for publication in Issues in Educational Research. I would like you to read it very carefully looking for anything which may need to be corrected or altered. If you find anything which needs to be changed please identify the change in Track Changes so I can transfer it to my master copy.

Please note copy editing notes at the end of the paper. These represent issues which may need your attention.

We are hoping to publish mid to late June and would like your response as soon as possible. Note that page numbers have not yet been finalised.

Best wishes

Clare
